Vienna, October 20.

ON the 5th Instant Marshal Maillebois sent his Baggage and Artillery in the Afternoon from Nendorf and Bramahoff towards Egra, and in the Night between the 5th and 6th he decamped himself, and with a most extraordinary forced March, placed himself to the East of Egra, his Left at Nebanitz, behind the River Egra, and his Right before it, tho' with the Advantage of being at the same Time behind a Rivulet, which, notwithstanding its Narrowness, is impassable without Bridges. From thence he moved on the 10th to Culm, and since advancing by Carlsbad, which was plundered in Revenge, as is said, for what happened at Cham, is extended from Schlakenwerth to Closterle, with an Avant Guard of 600 Men, as far as Caaden. In the mean while the Austrians moved from Plan to Konigswart, with Design to advance to Konigsberg; but upon the Motion of M. Maillebois to Culm, they, to take the String of the Bow, turned to Tople, and there dividing on the 12th, march'd in five Columns to gain, as on the 15th, the Plain of Trebelitz, and the Town of Podersham. It is written from General Berenclau's Army, that Marshal Seckendorf's is increased to the Number of 20,000, by the Encouragement given to the Peasants to join him, upon the Promise and Allurement of having the Upper Austria to plunder, and to quarter in freely this Winter. We hear that M. Broglio was to take the Command of the three French Armies in Bohemia, with a Power to do what he shall think properest for their Preservation.

From the Austrian Camp at Weseritz, four Leagues from Plan, October 22, N. S.

The 8th the Army arrived at Konigswart, and the next Morning Marshal Maillebois passed the Egra and marched to Falkenau, his Intention seeming to be to get into the Circle of Saatz, and keeping the Egra on his Right, endeavoured to join the Garrison of Prague, who had sent some while ago a strong Detachment to Leuthmeritz: Our Army therefore marched the 10th to Tople, the Roads being so bad over Mountains and through Woods, the Army was here divided into four Corps, and marching in four Columns encamped on the 12th, not far from each other, the Head Quarters being at Perles; thence we marched in the same manner to Waltsch, and rested there the 14th, as neither the Baggage nor even the Waggons with the Tents of the Infantry could come to that Place from Plan 'till the next Morning. In the Night between the 8th and 9th there fell a great Snow, which lay near a Foot thick. On the 15th the Army marched as before, and came into a fine Plain, where the Climate seemed quite changed; but we encamped still in separate Corps with the Head Quarters at Chunhof, about two German Miles from Caaden; the Enemy continued his March on the other side of the Egra by Elmbogen, Schlakenwerth, and Closteren, from whence they sent 100 Men to Caaden; but our Hussars and Creates being there before them, took 70 of them and killed the rest. The 16th Marshal Maillebois began to return, and that by forced Marches, for the Roads he had passed and was to repass were yet worse than ours: It was plain on the 17th that he had given up all Thoughts of joining the Garrison of Prague, and therefore on the 18th the Army returned to Libents, the 20th to Nitschetin, and the 21st hither: To-morrow we march towards Plan, which will be a little to our Right, so that whatever Motions the Enemy makes, we shall be at hand to join them.

Vienna, October 24, N. S. On the 17th as the Austrian Army was upon the Point of advancing from Schonhoff to Caaden, Advice came of the French having retreated from Closterle, where the irregular Troops had already taken Post, and from whence they were in Pursuit of the Enemy towards Egra. Upon the farther Confirmation of these Advices, the Great Duke retired likewise one March, to be more in the Centre whatever Party Maillebois should take. The French had suffer'd extremely in the March from Egra to Caaden. The Soldier, who had had the daily Allowance of one Pound and a Half of Bread, was reduced to half a Pound. The Officer had only Ammunition Bread, and his Portion of it cost 28 French Sols. Their heaviest Baggage had been left at Amberg, their second at Egra; they marched on Foot, with each his Servant to carry a light Portmanteau, which Fatigues make all those that are taken Prisoners desire to be sent home, promising never to serve against the Queen of Hungary. The Austrians too have suffer'd in their March. The Great Duke and Prince Charles, to encourage the Army, marched several Hours on Foot up to the Knees in the deep Soil of the Circle of Saatz; and whole Nights were passed upon the Snow without Tents: But the gaining this March upon the French has sufficiently recompensed them. Marshal Broglio's Troops are cantoned at Leuthmeritz, Milneck, Brandeis and Prague; and there is great Sickness at the latter of those Places. The Peasants in Upper Austria, capable of being raised to the Number of 50,000 Men, are putting themselves into a Condition of receiving the Peasants of Bavaria. It is advis'd from thence by Letters of the 20th, that General Berenclau having receiv'd his Reinforcement, was preparing to seek out Marshal Seckendorf, and give him Battle. Lord Forrester, in his Britannick Majesty's Ship the Leopard, is arrived at Trieste, and has brought with him the Money which had been sent by Shipping for the Use of the Queen of Hungary, but was stopp'd by Mistake in the Mediterranean.

Hollentzritz, October 25. The 23d the Army came to Marianfeltz, and on the 24th hither. To Day the greatest Part of it has marched to Mairhof near Roshault; Prince Lobkowitz with four Regiments of Horse and eleven Regiments of Foot remains here; with this Corps, and the four Regiments of Cavalry that are at Saatz, he is to march to Prague, and join Festetitz, who has three Regiments of Hussars and the rest of the Hungarian Infantry and Cavalry: This Separation proceeds from from the Enemy having left Egra, and marching into the Palatinate: If the Enemy does not abandon Egra entirely, there will be a little Corps left thereabouts.

Dresden, Oct. 30. The Intelligences which we have concerning the Situation and Motions of the Army under M. Broglio in and about Prague, are so imperfect and contradictory, that no certain Judgment can be formed upon them. Great Numbers continue to disband from M. Maillebois's Army, and the Town of Leipzig is full of them. We hear that General St. Ignon is at Lobochowitz with four Regiments of the Austrian Troops, M. Festetitz at Beraun with his Corps, and that Prince Lobcowitz was at Mies the 27th, with the Detachment left by the Great Duke under his Command.

Hubertsbourg, Nov. 5. Marshal Broglio arrived here Yesterday about Two in the Afternoon, paid his Court to their Polish Majesties and the Electoral Prince, visited Count Bruhl, and, before Four, continued his Journey to Leipzig; from whence he is to proceed, as we hear, to take the Command of the Army now under Marshal Maillebois. It is mentioned in Letters from Nurembourg, of the 30th past, that the Head of Marshal Maillebois's Army was then arrived at Amberg, and that his Rear has been greatly harrassed in the Retreat by the Light Troops of the Austrians, and that Sickness and Desertion were become pretty general through his whole Corps.

Hague, Nov. 6. By a Letter from an Officer in the Great Duke's Army, dated the 27th past from Weidenhausen, we hear his Royal Highness had enter'd that Morning into the Upper Palatinate, to follow and annoy Marshal Maillebois, having left a strong Detachment of Ten Regiments of Foot and near as many of Horse in Bohemia, under the Command of Prince Lobcowitz, to observe the French still at or about Prague.

Whereas divers Persons, thro' Ignorance or Carelessness, frequently put Letters into the General Post Offices, and the Receiving Houses both in Town and Country, directed on board of Ships, and to Foreign Parts, without paying at the same Time the Postage, as ought to be done; And whereas Letters and Packets are often put into the said Offices with Money and Rings inclosed, and in Fraud of his Majesty's Revenue, divers Persons presume to send Letters with false and counterfeit Franks;

This is to acquaint the Publick, that no Letters under any of the Circumstances aforesaid have any Right by Law to be forwarded.
